

MOVIE MASH-UPS

AKRONFILM

Thank you, Akron Art Museum!

Two movies are better than one.

Over the course of two weeks, shoot a short film that combines two classic movies! Chances are it will be strange. Maybe even inscrutable.

How it works:

There is a $20 entry fee per team and no limit on team size. Teams must supply their own cameras and other equipment.

At an orientation on Sunday, August 8th at 1:00pm at the Akron Art Museum, you will draw two movie titles. You must use elements from these two movies in the creation of a short film which may be no longer than five minutes. Orientation attendance isn't required, but is encouraged.

This isn't a re-editing project a la the mash-up movie trailers on YouTube that use the actual movie footage. We'd like you to shoot or animate something new. You could mix lines, characters, plot points, props, or other elements from the two films your team draws. Deliver your project to us using one of the methods in the chart below, and notice the differing deadlines depending on your delivery method.

Mail	Electronic (FTP)	In person

After watching the projects at a wrap-up event on August 26th at 7:00pm, an independent panel plus an audience vote will determine the winner, which will be announced later that evening. The winning team will receive $250 cash plus an assortment of items from local businesses, and their film will be screened again as part of the Akron Film Festival, taking place from September 23rd to 26th, 2010 at the Akron Art Museum.
